October 2007 – The Association of International Photography Art Dealers (AIPAD) will debut a new art fair, The AIPAD Photography Show Miami, from Wednesday, December 5 through Sunday, December 9, 2007. More than 45 of the world's leading fine art photography galleries will present a wide range of museum quality work by 19th century, modern and contemporary masters. The exhibition will be held at a tented venue located at NW 31st Street and North Miami Avenue in the Wynwood Art District of Miami, Florida. The new art fair will run concurrently with Art Basel Miami Beach, as well as numerous other art fairs during the week. The AIPAD Photography Show Miami will open with an invitational preview on Tuesday, December 4, 2007.

“We are delighted to announce this new fair in Miami that will further highlight the tremendous collective knowledge, scholarship and expertise of AIPAD dealers,” said Robert Klein, President, AIPAD, and President, Robert Klein Gallery in Boston. “More and more collectors are adding Miami in December to their calendars. As a result, we were getting calls from photography collectors asking us to come to Miami so that they could have access there to a focused exhibition of the most important photographic works available on the market.”

AIPAD is well known for the prestigious fair, The AIPAD Photography Show New York, which is held at the Park Avenue Armory in New York City in April. The new dates for the 28th edition of the fair in New York are April 10 -13, 2008. The AIPAD Photography Show is the longest running and foremost exhibition of fine art photography.
